

HOLLAR'S EXPERIENCE SUNDAY MORNING RAID

Escaped From Washington Hospital and Walked Partly Clad to Martinsburg, W. Va.

As has been stated in the Gazette the mystery surrounding the disappearance a week ago of Lewis Henry Hollar from Walter Reed Hospital in Washington was cleared up when the young man, scantily clad, with frostbitten feet and in an exhausted condition, stumbled into the home of his brother, P. Hollar, in Martinsburg, W. Va.

Although in a highly nervous condition, young Hollar managed to tell his brother that he wandered about for a week in an effort to cover the 73 miles between Washington and his brother's home. During his wandering he was half-clothed and insufficiently fed and for the greater part of the time unconscious of his movements.

The officials at the Washington hospital were notified of Hollar's arrival at Martinsburg, and he will be cared for pending the decision of the army authorities.

Young Hollar formerly lived in Martinsburg, but sometime ago removed to Alexandria, and became an employee of the electric railway. He subsequently married a young woman who resided in the southeastern section of the city. When the Virginia troops were mobilized for service on the Mexican border young Hollar left Alexandria as a member of the Light Infantry, but was taken ill at Richmond and spent several months in a hospital there. His case baffled the Richmond physicians, and he was transferred to the Army hospital at Washington by the War Department. Tuesday night of last week he disappeared from the hospital, and search for him was instituted all over the East by Government officials. When he left the hospital he wore only his pajamas and was without shoes. Hospital attendants feared that he would not survive the night and a vigorous search for his body was made for miles around Washington.

VIRGINIA ATHLETIC CLUB

To Hold Meeting Tonight at Armory Hall.

The Gazette has been requested to publish the following:

"The management of the Virginia Athletic football team of this city is at this time requesting the members of the Club to try to get all members who are football players to come out and make a showing in this line of sport as they have done before. So far this fall there has been a lack of interest shown by all members of the teams of former years. The Virginia Athletic Club made a splendid record in the seasons of 1914-15 and there is no reason why they should not uphold the same this season, although the season is almost over.

"There will be a meeting of all former and present members of the Virginia Athletic Club football team at the Armory Hall tonight for the purpose of reorganizing a real football team and electing a captain to take the place of former Captain M. Wood who was injured early in the season. The management also wishes to state that all games will be played on Saturdays instead of Sundays, which will be more satisfactory to the players as well as the public. Come boys, let's start something."

Mrs. F. E. Ludwig has been elected president, Mrs. John B. Duncan, secretary and Mrs. Harvey Struder, treasurer of the Foreign Missionary society of Trinity Methodist church. The Home Missionary society of that church held an indoor picnic yesterday at the residence of Mrs. James B. Fitzgerald, 208 south Patrick street, at which time barrel of good things was packed to be sent to the members of the Alexandria troops on the Texas border.

Mary L. Wheelock Fined $25 for Conducting a Disorderly House on Prince Street.

The case of Mary L. Wheelock, arrested at an early hour last Sunday morning on the charge of being the proprietress of a disorderly house on the south side of Prince street, near Fairfax, came up in the Police Court this morning. The accused was represented by Robinson Moncre.

The house, it will be remembered, was raided about 2 o'clock in the morning, and in addition to the proprietress Helen Allen, Miller Saunders, Thomas Gaines and G. W. Hewett, soldiers, were entrapped in the police net. Mrs. Wheelock left collateral for herself and the men and women, amounting to $90. The former was the only one of the party who appeared this morning, and the collateral of the others was declared forfeited.

Sergeant Scott and Officers Kerns and William Campbell, testified to conditions existing in the house at the time they entered, also as to the general reputation of the place. Their evidence was corroborated by Chief Goods. It was shown that certain women and men met in the house at all hours of the night, and that at times limousine automobiles had stopped in front of the place where men and women had been discharged who entered the house.

Sergeant Scott told of finding a man and woman in a room when he entered it Sunday morning.

Mrs. Wheelock in her statement said she conducted a boarding house, and was not aware that any disorderly proceedings were carried on there. Not enjoying good health, she is compelled to procure help, which accounted for the fact that the women who had been arrested were found there.

After all the testimony had been taken, Mr. Moncre asked that in case of a conviction that the fine be made as small as possible.

Justice Caton in summing up the case said the general reputation of the house had been clearly established, and he therefore imposed a fine of $25.

KILLED IN AUTO SMASH

When Brakes Fail to Work, Owner's Chest is Caved in.

Bloomington, Pa., Nov. 23.—Edward Delaney, aged 47, tax collector of Plymouth township, was killed three miles from here yesterday, when his automobile overturned, throwing the five occupants out, and then righted itself. With Delaney were Mr. and Mrs. William Freeman, Plymouth; Harry Swinski, Avondale, and Harry Hutchings, West Berwick, all on their way to Forks for a hunt.

The car was going down an easy grade when the brake failed to respond. It twice turned over and when Delaney was picked up he was dead, with his chest caved in. Mrs. Freeman was badly cut.

Do you read the want ad columns in the Gazette? Yesterday one of Alexandria's business concerns was advertising for a bookkeeper. Another advertiser was calling for a large number of girls to whom employment will be given, while still another was telling people where they could buy fresh eggs at a low price; information was also given as to where good table board might be obtained, another notice called for a young lady to act as clerk in a store. If you haven't been reading those columns you better do so. By the way, if you turn to them today you will find announcements which may prove of interest to you right now.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Paragraphs Picked Up Here and There Throughout the State.

Reports are current in Richmond that Mrs. Rose Wright Carruthers, who recently had her husband, Geo. M. Carruthers, arrested on the charge of administering poison to her, had been planning to go on the movie stage and that reluctance on the part of her husband to foot the bill incident to such a venture perhaps had something to do with the domestic troubles that are said to have preceded the alleged poisoning attempt. According to reports, Mrs. Carruthers wished to go to California to try to connect with a motion picture production concern in that state. When apprised of the reports, Mrs. Carruthers denied them most vehemently, saying that she had never thought of such a thing. The same denial was entered by her mother, Mrs. W. T. Wright.

While the police justice of Hopewell sent twenty-eight cases to the grand jury for investigation, all of them cases growing out of the enforcement of the liquor laws, the grand jury of the last term of the corporation court failed to return a solitary indictment, it has been reported to the state prohibition commissioner. This action has nonplus the officers of the state, especially in view of the fact that the state has been making extraordinary efforts to enforce the laws and secure convictions in that section. Governor Stuart even detailed experienced men to the work there, and the evidence, supplied was said to be ample

The old whipping post law was put into effect Tuesday afternoon in Police Court of Winchester by order of Justice Fultz, for the first time in many years, and the lash was vigorously applied by Upton Thompson on the bare skin of his nine-year-old son. The Thompson boy and a daughter of James Newlin and some other children of the neighborhood had a row, resulting in Thompson throwing a brick and striking the Newlin girl in the back, knocking her down. When threatened with arrest, the lad, it was stated, broke up an apple butter party in Newlin's backyard. He threw a brick into a large kettle of boiling apples, and the scalding mixture splattered out on some of the women, almost causing a panic. Thompson finally was taken by the police, and when the court recalled that the old whipping and flogging law had not been repealed it was decided to put it into force.

$15,000,000 TO NORFOLK

Government Will Enlarge Navy Yard At Bay City.

That the Chesapeake Bay region of the Atlantic Coast is destined to become the great shipbuilding centre of the country was further indicated yesterday when Secretary Daniels announced that equipment would at once be installed for the construction of battleships at the Norfolk Navy Yard.

The announcement comes close upon the award of two dreadnaughts to the Newport News Shipbuilding Company by the Navy Department.

Already Hampton Roads is the greatest naval base on either coast, and year by year the importance of the bay and its tributaries for a naval standpoint grows.

Tentative plans for development of Norfolk Navy Yard, Rear Admiral Harris, chief of yards and docks, told the House Naval Committee today contemplated the expenditure of $15,000,000. Facilities for mooring 32 capital ships would be provided as against the four ships the yard now is equipped to handle. Complete facilities for capital ship construction would make the yard second only to the navy's plant at Philadelphia.

The project for the Norfolk yard already is under way and of the $15,000,000 required to complete it, nearly one-third has been supplied.

DINNERS FOR OUR BOYS WOMEN'S CLUBS ACTIVE

Thanksgiving Remembrances to be Sent to Alexandria Soldiers on Texas Border.

The ladies who assisted at the recent Masonic Bazaar are arranging to send a Thanksgiving box to the Alexandria Light Infantry now on the border. Any contributions of cakes, candies, jellies, preserves, pickles or fruits, in fact things that will pack and keep well will be welcome. It is not thought advisable to risk meats or fowl. Those who desire to help will send their contributions to Brawner's store, corner King and Washington streets, Saturday, for the box should be packed and ready for shipment early Monday to reach Texas in time to be distributed by Thanksgiving. The ladies of Warrenton are sending a box to their boys on the border and Alexandria should not be left at the post by Warrenton. When it is thought how far these boys are from home and the pleasure a box will afford them it is assured that their friends and relatives will come forward with a box of good things that will delight the heart, to say nothing of the inner man, of every member of the company.

PEACE PROSPECTS

England Will Give Proposals the Consideration They Deserve.

London, Nov. 23.—"Any peace proposals from Germany will receive the consideration they deserve," said the Earl of Derby, under-secretary of war, yesterday to a correspondent, in response to an inquiry regarding the attitude of the entente allies.

"The allies," continued Lord Derby, "cannot entertain an idea of peace which does not give them what they are fighting for. The allies have not modified their position in this respect."

When asked his opinion as to the probable duration of the war in the light of recent events, Lord Derby said:

"Only a fool would prophesy. I believe any one who understands the temper of the British people will agree with me that they have shown no signs of weakening, but on the contrary are growing more determined to continue the war to a satisfactory conclusion. On the other hand, the Germans appear equally determined."

Rome, Nov. 23.—The Allocation, which Pope Benedict will deliver at the secret consistory on December 4, will be the most fervent appeal for peace from the Vatican since the war began. It was learned in Vatican circles yesterday that the Pope and Cardinal Gasparri, the papal secretary of state, are working daily upon the address.

There was a disposition to touch upon the removal of Belgian and French workmen by the Germans and also upon the grant of autonomy to Poland, but it is understood that it later was decided to sidestep these subjects so that the whole appeal would be for peace.

Roman Catholic prelates, throughout the world are to be asked to pray continually for peace.

The papal address will trace the efforts of the Vatican to secure peace and to alleviate suffering caused by the war.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The report that this government soon will take some step formally to urge peace in Europe was emphasized yesterday by a long conference at the White House between President Wilson and Dr. Paul Ritter, Minister from Switzerland.

The diplomat is understood to have assured the Chief Executive the Swiss government would lend every possible aid in an effort to end the war. It is known Dr. Ritter is anxious to have the peace delegates meet in Switzerland and he is believed to have extended the invitation yesterday.

It was admitted, for the first time, that President Wilson has his agent in the field and will launch a plan as soon as there is the slightest assurance that it can be made effective. No details of the conference with Dr. Ritter were made public.

Interesting and Beneficial Work Which is Being Engaged in by Members of Various Organizations

The Gazette has been able, through the chairman of the press and publicity committee of the Virginia Federation of Women's Club, to obtain some club notes that are of interest to the Alexandria members of women's clubs.

At the first autumn meeting of the Christiansburg Betterment Club they reported having returned a blind boy to school for his eighth session. The Women's Club of Blacksburg will take up the study of home economics and the Latin American question for their winters work. Co-operating with two other organizations they are paying a debt incurred for a Domestic Science teacher in the High school, also for an operation upon a child with ear and throat trouble. On Thanksgiving Day this club will provide dinner for fifty convicts employed near that place.

The Woman's Club of Radford, co-operating with Drs. Faqua and McConnell and Superintendent Whitt, have, by indefatigable efforts, raised sufficient funds to supply a school nurse for several months, and Mrs. J. Baldwin Ransome, state supervisor of school nursing, is using every effort to secure the right nurse for that field.

The Vienna Current Events Club in October had a Model Kitchen at the county fair. Washington merchants loaned the most up-to-date equipment. Besides other activities, this club has continued its Arts and Crafts work, at this time dyeing and sewing carpet rags, which they have woven into the most attractive dull blue and white rugs.

CONGRATULATES WILSON.

Republican Candidates Send Telegrams to the President.

Lakewood, N. J., Nov. 23.—Charles E. Hughes, Republican candidate for President in the recent election, tonight sent to President Wilson a telegram congratulating him upon his re-election.

In his telegram Mr. Hughes said: "Because of the closeness of the vote I have awaited the official count in California, and now that it has been virtually completed permit me to extend to you my congratulations upon your re-election. I desire also to express my best wishes for a successful administration."

President Wilson replied to the message of congratulations as follows:

"Charles E. Hughes, Laurel-in-the-Pines, Lakewood, N. J.
"I am sincerely obliged to you for your message of congratulations. Allow me to assure you of my good wishes for the years to come."
"Woodrow Wilson."

New York, Nov. 23.—William R. Wilcox, chairman of the Republican national committee, last night issued the following statement in reference to Mr. Hughes' telegram to President Wilson:

"Having conferred by telephone during the day and late in the afternoon with the Republican State committee and the Republican national committee in California, I am informed that the official canvass of the vote has been so nearly completed that no change will result from the few precincts not counted in the returns thus far compiled.

"This means that the majority for the Wilson electors in California ranges from about 1,200 to 3,800 votes, and that this is the final result of the canvass for which we have been waiting. So far as any recount is concerned, the national committee is not advised that there are sufficient grounds to call for such an application."

Miss Nan Ethel Payne, of Washington, and Mr. John Berry, of King George county, were married yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence of the groom's brother, Dr. Vivian P. Berry, 108 south Washington street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Jackson Morton, rector of Christ Protestant Episcopal Church. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Berry left for their home in King George county.

NEW AUSTRIAN RULER.

Archduke Karl Franz Josef, now to be Emperor of Austria is 29 years of age.

Democratically inclined, very little has been known of him until recently.

He has lacked any training whatever in statecraft or diplomacy. Moreover, he assumes the throne at a time when the strongest men would have a task in maintaining the empire of Austria-Hungary intact and strong. Hungary is growing restive under the Hapsburg yoke.

Strong leaders of men have recently appeared there. They fear swallowing up of Hungary in the Teutonic empire, and have not hesitated to express that belief and to work for Hungary as a separate kingdom.

It has been sixty-eight years since the cry, "The king is dead! Long live the king!" has been heard in Austria, during which time the house of the Hapsburgs has passed through some thrilling experiences. The story of Francis Joseph and his times will afford an interesting study for future students of history.

The effect of the passing away of the aged ruler at this time and the accession of Carl Franz Josef may have an important bearing upon the war. It has been known from the beginning that Germany has acted the part of a whip to Austria, and that a certain percentage of the people of the kingdom were averse to war at the onset. It has at times been reported that Austria desired to make a separate peace with Russia, but was deterred by Germany. Besides Hungary is by no means satisfied with present conditions, the country not being content by being part of the tail of the Teutonic kite. The young king is faced by many problems. It remains to be seen whether or not he can manage the ship of state as did his predecessor.

ROOSEVELT'S MILITARISM

That the people of the United States made no mistake in turning down Charles E. Hughes and his coadjutor, Theodore Roosevelt, at the Presidential election this month becomes more apparent daily. The fact that the latter would have exerted great influence upon Mr. Hughes's administration is well-known, and relegating the would-be President to private life carries Roosevelt also into the shade.

Lieut.-Gen. S. B. M. Young, retired, made public in Washington yesterday a letter from Theodore Roosevelt, saying:

"I most cordially and emphatically approve your efforts, as president of the Association for National Service, to secure the passage of a law making it obligatory upon every male American citizen between the age of 18 and 21 to serve six months or a year, as the case may be, in the field with the colors."

"No man is fit to be a free man unless he has fitted himself to fight efficiently for his freedom."

The above will be read with interest by the great majority who rejoice in the fact that we can be citizens of this great republic without being compelled to pass a large percentage of our lives as soldiers. It is well-known that Roosevelt weakened Hughes's standing by advocating militarism in his speeches. The former Supreme Court Justice had good reason to say, Deliver me from my friends!

VOTE IN SOUTHERN STATES

In discussing the working of the electoral college system many critics, especially Republicans, contend that under the present methods the Southern States have an unfair advantage because, with fewer voters, they are enabled to exert as great an influence as Northern and Western States, where the vote is heavy. "Compare," says a correspondent, "Virginia's 12 electors, representing 140,000 voters, with Minnesota's 12 electors representing 235,000; Alabama's 12 electors for 121,000 votes, with California's 13 electors for 807,000; North Carolina's 12 electors for 268,000 with Iowa's 13 electors for 500,000," etc.

The Philadelphia Record is commenting upon these statistics, suggesting that from such a statement it might be inferred that there are only 140,000 voters in Virginia, 268,000 in North Carolina, and the number credited to other Southern States. This is obviously an error. Leaving out of the discussion the practical disfranchisement of the negro in some, not all, of the States of the South, there is no reason to suppose that, in proportion to population, there are not as many white men qualified to vote in the South as in the North. They do not vote, however, because of the peculiar local conditions. So long as possible negro domination is regarded as a threat to the civilization of the whites the latter largely combine in one political party, now the Democratic, to resist this menace. The contests of that party are fought out in the primaries, and when election comes there is no urgent necessity for a great turnout at the polls. If the negroes voted freely there is no doubt that the whites would reply in numbers sufficient to counterbalance this accession of strength to the Republicans. In Virginia, for instance, there were, at the time of the census of 1910, 1,389,809 whites, to 671,096 blacks. This would give approximately 280,000 white voters to some 130,000 blacks.

It is probable that if the choice of a President were made by popular vote the increase in the white strength would more than counterbalance the vote cast by the negroes.

Mrs. Mary Ritter Bowles is dead at Mount Sidney, Augusta county, as the result of injuries sustained in an unusual accident. A few days ago Mrs. Bowles, while preparing breakfast, upset a bottle of gasoline in the kitchen. Then she struck a match in order to find out what damage had been done. The gasoline became ignited and instantly there was a terrific explosion and flames shot up to the ceiling, completely enveloping Mrs. Bowles. Mrs. Bowles's clothing caught on fire and she was badly burned. Her daughter came to her rescue and saved her from instant death. Pleurisy developed, causing her death.

THIS MAN LOS TWO OR THREE DAYS FROM WORK EVERY WEEK

Herbert Says: "Health was Broken Down for Three Years—Gains 20 Pounds on Four Bottles of Dr. Drego."

"It is a fact I haven't lost a day's work since I took my first bottle of Dr. Drego, and before that I had lost a bad shape I had to lay off two or three days each week," said H. Herbert, who has been in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing for a number of years.

"Drego," continued Mr. Herbert, "has done me more real genuine good than all the other medicines I have taken put together. I have just finished my fourth bottle, and have gained around twenty pounds in weight and I haven't felt as well in a long time as I do right now. For several years I was in a broken down condition and had a tired out, despondent feeling. I had little or no appetite at all, especially was this true of breakfast time. My stomach soon got so that it would not stand any solid food, as it formed gas and kept me all bloated up, and I was terribly constipated and had a hard time finding anything that would make me regular in my habits. I kept losing weight and strength till I could not work regular. I got to where I never felt like work at all and would have to lay off about half the time. I kept growing worse and had about decided to go to a famous stomach specialist, but decided to try Dr. Drego first, as it was doing other people so much good. And I wanted to save the money I knew the specialist would charge me, if possible."

"Almost immediately I could feel myself building up. I got hungry and commenced eating and picking up in weight and strength in only a few days. I can now eat as heartily a breakfast as any other meal, and my stomach is a great deal better since taking Dr. Drego, for I never have the gas to form after eating these big meals. Yes, sir, Dr. Drego began to rid me of my troubles and by the time I had finished my first bottle I was able to put in full time on my job, and I haven't lost a day since. There is no guess work about what it has done in my case, and I believe it will do as much for anyone else who is down in health as I was."

Paragraphs Picked Up Here and There Throughout the State.

Mrs. Maggie A. Elder lost a suit against the Virginia Railway and Power Company for $5,000 damages yesterday in Petersburg, for alleged injuries received by her in July by being thrown from an electric car of the defendant company on the Blandford and Grove avenue line. The plaintiff claimed that while she was alighting from the car after it had stopped it suddenly started forward and she was thrown to the street and her left arm painfully injured. The defendant company claimed that Mrs. Elder was injured while attempting to get off the car while in motion.

Theodore W. Heath, of Philadelphia general solicitor, and Lucian H. Coker, general attorney for the Norfolk and Western Railway, instituted suit yesterday in the Federal District Court at Lynchburg, against Richard E. Byrd, United States

NEWS OF THE DAY

A few hours after the British admiralty in a brief statement yesterday announced the destruction of the White Star liner Britannic, used as a hospital ship by the entente, in the Aegean Sea, an official statement was issued in Athens announcing that the big vessel was torpedoed. Fifty lives were lost, as far as known up to late tonight, and 1,106 persons were rescued. Unconfirmed dispatches say that Americans were on board. American surgeons these messages said, were among the hospital staff, which, with the crew, numbered more than 500.

The courts of New Jersey yesterday began to unravel a ludicrous state of domestic entanglement which has made Robert Conklin of Haledon his own stepfather. In 1905, Conklin, sr., married his housekeeper Mrs. Capitola Tisk, a comely French woman, with two children of her own. They kept the marriage secret. A year later, Conklin, Jr., also fell in love with the pretty housekeeper, proposed and was accepted. They were married. A few days ago Conklin, Jr., and his wife had a tiff and the story came out. Now he has sued for annulment of the marriage, and his wife, who also is his stepmother has made no contest.

Mrs. Almeric Hugh Paget, who prior to her marriage, was Miss Pauline Whitney, of New York, died yesterday after a three weeks' illness at Esher, Surrey, England. Mrs. Paget was a daughter of the late William C. Whitney, once Secretary of the United States Navy. Her marriage to Mr. Paget took place in New York in 1895.

George Lounsbury, 46 years old, of Salem, N. J., is dying in Cooper Hospital in Camden as the result of a fracture of the skull, caused, it is alleged, by his wife Eva, 35, who was adjudged insane several months ago. The couple have not lived together for some time. On Tuesday night the husband visited his wife at her boarding-house, and yesterday morning his body was found on the floor of her room, a hatchet and broken glass cane by his side.

Mrs. Dorothy Bowman, 22, fell dead in her home in Owensboro, Ky., yesterday, the victim of a bullet that came crashing through the window pane. William Barnes the woman's former husband, is being sought.

Jack London, famous writer of adventure stories died last night at his ranch home, "Glen Ellen," near Santa Rosa, Cal., a victim of uremic poisoning.

Creeping out of a third floor window in Washington, 18-month-old John S. McCarthy yesterday afternoon fell forty feet to his death on a cement landing below.

The death early yesterday of the Rev. Frank R. Millsbaugh, bishop of the diocese of Kansas of the Protestant Episcopal Church, at his home in Topeka, Kan., removed one of the prominent figures in the denomination in which he served for more than 40 years. Hardening of the arteries necessitated his withdrawal from the more active phases of church work last years and was responsible for his death.

Mrs. Charles Samson, said to be the wife of a New York broker, leaped from a fifth floor window of a hotel in Philadelphia yesterday. She was taken to a hospital in an unconscious condition and died in half an hour of a fractured skull. Mrs. Samson is said to have been suffering from nervousness.

Charleston, S. C.

"Besides inflicting heavy losses on the enemy we captured five German officers and 181 men and 300 Bulgarians, including the colonel commanding the Ninetieth regiment."

"The Serbian and allied troops have occupied the villages of Paralova and Dobromir (northwest of Monastir)."

Paris, Nov. 23.—Energetic resistance is being offered by the Germans and Bulgarians on the Macedonian front north of Monastir, the war office announces. The advance of the entente forces was delayed also by heavy fog. Five hundred more prisoners were taken.

The Germano-Bulgarian forces are accepting battle on a line running from Snegovo, three miles north of Monastir, to Hill 1050, southwest of the town of Makovo, which is thirteen miles northeast of Monastir.

On the west bank of Lake Presba French troops have occupied Leskovets and are continuing their progress to the north.

Berlin, Nov. 23.—The capture by German forces of a height near Paralova on the Macedonian front ten miles northeast of Monastir, is announced officially.

PERILS OF GASOLINE

When Air Mixes With the Vapor, It's a Bomb.

Look Out For Trouble.

Fatalities on account of gasoline are on the increase, which leads the Journal of the American Medical Association to remark that, "in harmony with experience respecting human ways and human indifference, the increasing use of gasoline and other liquid fuels which are dangerous because of their ready inflammability will probably increase the number of accidents which cause loss of life as well as great damage to property. Miscellaneous hazards in the use of inflammable products exist which lead to leakage of these volatile substances and their ignition by spontaneous and unsuspected methods, as well as those due to obvious carelessness."

"A feature, however, which is not readily comprehended and which is a serious source of danger is the fact that gasoline or gasoline vapor burns but a mixture of the vapor and air is highly explosive." The bureau of mines in a technical paper by G. A. Burrell illustrates the situation in these words:

"If one takes the cover off a full pail of tightly inclosed gasoline and applies a match to the surface the gasoline will flare up and burn as long as the gasoline lasts. On the other hand, if one puts a few drops of gasoline in a small tightly inclosed pail, waits a few minutes and then introduces a flame or an electric spark a violent explosion will most likely result. In the first place, the vapor burns as fast as it comes from the gasoline and mixes with the oxygen of the air; in the second, the oil vaporizes in the pail and mixes uniformly with the air in the pail to form an explosive mixture, and on ignition explodes."

"Consequently, when one hears of a disastrous gasoline explosion one may be sure that it resulted from the mixing of the vapor from the gasoline with air in the proportions necessary to form an explosive mixture."

"The behavior of illuminating gas, which burns quietly when liberated alone, but explodes when a mixture with air is heated, is quite analogous. The public has been slow to appreciate these distinctions, and hence they deserve emphasis."

"At ordinary temperatures air will hold from 5 to 25 per cent of gasoline vapor. As gasoline vapor is about three times as heavy as air, in a room containing a mixture of the vapor with air the vapor is found in largest proportion near the floor. According to the government experts there is needed only a small proportion of gasoline vapor to render air explosive—1.5 cubic feet of the vapor to 97.5 cubic feet of air. One gallon of gasoline under ideal conditions renders 2.5 cubic feet of air explosive."

"A dangerous feature of gasoline vapor is that it may travel a considerable distance from the gasoline and then be ignited. The flash traveling back to the container of the liquid and causing a roaring fire in a few seconds."

Satire and Sarcasm

In "A Modern Columbus" by B. G. Knowles, is this bonnet:

"At a table in the Lamb club, New York, one evening satire and sarcasm became the subjects of severe criticism among the assembled wisecracks, and the discussion entailed some heated remarks, when the late Charlie Hoyt, leaning over, quietly and unostentatiously drew out a definition and comparison of both that engendered considerable thinking on the part of his listeners and ended the argument. 'Satire,' he said, 'is like the prick of a needle, but sarcasm is a blow from the fist.' George Marion, my host on that occasion, asked, 'Well, then, what is wit and humor?' To which Hoyt replied, 'The phlegm that heals the wounds caused by the other two.'"

Wisdom and Silence

An acquaintance of the late Josh Billings was one day talking with him about the remarkable increase of imitations and substitutes for original articles, as oleomargarine for butter, cashmere for ivory, and so forth. "Ah," said he, "many of the substitutes are ahead of the real thing. I guess in time there will be a substitute for every thing—though I don't know about wisdom."

"No," replied the humorist; "up to the present time, at least, there is no really good substitute for wisdom. But silence is the best that has been discovered."

Finding Specific Gravity

The specific gravity of oil may be ascertained by taking a glass vessel and weighing it; then weight into it an ounce of water and mark the point where the water reaches; then fill with this mark with oil and weigh it. Express the weight of the oil as a decimal part of an ounce, which will be the specific gravity of the oil. That of grease may be obtained in the same manner, pouring the melted grease into the vessel.

Treadmills

Water mills were used in the time of Julius Caesar. In Roman times slaves were condemned to the corn mills which were propelled by treadmills. Afterward cattle were used. In the third and fourth centuries there were as many as 300 cattle mills in Rome.

Got Excited

"Was her father violent when you asked him for her hand?"

"Was he? Great goodness, no. He held his breath for half an hour."

"What is the most reliable condition of human life, the true source of human culture?"

"Tobacco."

"What is the most reliable condition of human life, the true source of human culture?"

"Tobacco."
